

Prosci® Change Management Certification Program

As part of the Prosci® Change Management certification program, we provide you with the theoretical knowledge and tools to successfully manage your change projects.

The starting point is the integrated consideration of both - project management and change management. Here we discuss and demonstrate how the lifecycles of projects, the individual changes as well as change processes within a company as a whole are closely interlinked. Nevertheless, the focus is and will always be on the human beings, which are involved or affected by these processes.

As a Prosci® Certified Change Practitioner, you are entitled to make indefinite use of the Prosci® methods, templates and assessments provided in the training and included in the eToolkit in your change projects.

Target group:

- Change Manager
- Members of change management teams
